

Indira Gandhi Delhi Technical University For Women

(Established by Govt. of Delhi vide Act 09 of 2012) Kashmere Gate, Delhi-110006

Department of Electronics and Communication Engineering

A Visit to

Dara Shikoh Library under Viksit Bharat@2047

On 19th March 2024, A Visit to Partition Museum & Dara Shikoh Library Cultural Hub located in Dr. B.R. Ambedkar University, Lothian Road was organized by Ms. Harshita Prasad (JRF) & Ms. Megha Dua (JRF) of ECE Department. This visit was prompted by a desire to explore the cultural and historical significance of this renowned library. The Dara Shikoh Library is a gem nestled within the heart of Delhi named after the Mughal prince and intellectual Dara Shikoh, the library boasts a rich collection of books, manuscripts, and artifacts that reflect the diverse cultural heritage of the region.

Upon arrival, the students were struck by the architectural grandeur of the library building. Its traditional Mughal design, characterized by intricate arches and ornate domes, exuded a sense of timeless elegance. The well-maintained gardens surrounding the library provided a serene backdrop, inviting visitors to pause and appreciate the beauty of their surroundings. The spacious halls were lined with shelves overflowing with books, offering a glimpse into the vast reservoir of knowledge housed within its walls. The atmosphere was conducive to quiet contemplation and scholarly pursuits, with ample seating areas provided for visitors to delve into their chosen reading material.

One of the highlights of the visit was the opportunity to peruse some of the rare manuscripts and artifacts on display. From beautifully illuminated Qurans to intricately illustrated Persian texts, each item seemed to whisper stories of a bygone era, preserving the cultural heritage of the region for future generations to appreciate.

Our visit to the Dara Shikoh Library was a truly enriching experience. Not only did it offer valuable insights into the history and culture of the region, but it also underscored the enduring importance of preserving our literary heritage for posterity. I would highly recommend a visit to anyone with an interest in history, literature, or simply a desire to explore the treasures of the past.

Visit Photographs:

